

Philippe Pourhashemi

Fashion coach, journalist, consultant

Philippe was born in Tehran in 1976. He grew up in Paris before moving to Scotland to study Foreign Languages.

In 2005, he graduated with a PhD in Cultural Studies, looking at young graduates starting their working lives abroad.

He has worked as a creative coach for FASHIONCLASH in Maastricht, as well as MAD and Wallonie-Bruxelles Design/Mode in Brussels. Besides consulting for several independent fashion and accessory brands, he also writes features for Fucking Young, Mixte Magazine, W China, DUST and CAP74024. He has sat on several international juries, from the Austrian Fashion Association in Vienna to the Atelier Chardon Savard in Paris, La Cambre Mode[s] in Brussels, and the IED Fashioners of the World in Barcelona.